Strategic Alliance Partnership
An invitation to your organization to join the International Gynecologic Cancer Society and its movement to be THE Global Gynecologic Oncology Organization.
IGCS Strategic Alliance Partnership

WHY PARTICIPATE

The IGCS aims to bring together the leaders and members of gynecologic oncology organizations throughout the world to communicate and work together on a global level.

Together, the IGCS and our Strategic Alliance Partners will create a forum for collaboration and idea sharing. By becoming a part of our alliance, your organization will join forces with groups and individuals across the globe, increasing your ability to share resources and find solutions to the many issues facing gynecologic cancer patients and professionals around the world.
By becoming an IGCS Strategic Alliance Partner, your members and your organization will receive the benefits of participating in a truly global community that include:

IGCS Early Career Network:
IGCS is initiating an early career network that will provide:
- Mentorship of young members in the areas of research including abstract writing, presentation at scientific meetings, publishing results as well as designing and conducting clinical trials.
- Ability to network with other IGCS early career professionals.
- Participation in the early career session at the Biennial Meeting.
- Inclusion in the competitive process for travel scholarships to IGCS Meetings

Leadership Meetings:
IGCS believes there is mutual benefit in having a dialogue between the leadership of IGCS and your region/society to discuss challenges and opportunities facing the organizations and the specialty. The meetings would occur twice yearly in person or conference call, with the agenda mutually agreed upon in advance of the meetings.

Organization Exposure:
With a new website launched in late October of 2016 the IGCS is excited to offer each region/society a page within the IGCS website under Strategic Alliance Partnership Section. It will include logo, information about your society, leadership, how to become a member and member benefits, any upcoming events, and a link to your society website (if appropriate). IGCS will provide resources to assist with web content and updates.

IGCS International Women’s Cancer Partner Roundtable:
IGCS is committed to providing meaningful conversations, idea sharing, and leadership to our industry partners. Conversations in the IGCS Partner Roundtable program are conducted in a format that allow for open discussion and problem-solving in areas of mutual interest, current trends, and future topics in gynecologic oncology. As a Strategic Alliance Partner we invite you to participate.

Members-Only portal of igcs.org:
An important component of the new IGCS website is the educational portal that is a member only benefit. It provides interim state of the art continuing medical education to compliment education provided at your conferences. IGCS welcomes the opportunity to partner education offerings, including:

- Virtual Case Discussions
- Surgical Film Library
- Education Exchange talks
- Biennial meeting webcasts
- Peer-Reviewed Journal Blogs

Global Curriculum and Mentorship Program:
The IGCS has launched the Gynecologic Oncology Global Curriculum & Mentorship Program, a comprehensive two-year web based curriculum education and training program designed for regions around the world that do not currently have formal training in gynecologic oncology. The IGCS leadership welcomes the opportunity to discuss the curriculum and its potential applicability to your region/society.

Annual Disease Awareness Campaign:
IGCS is dedicated to promoting awareness of gynecologic cancers. A partnership with IGCS to assist in the development and dissemination of materials in a disease-specific awareness campaign which will drive awareness of gynecologic cancers worldwide and can be translated to many languages for patients.

Governance:
Strategic Alliance Partners will have a voice within the IGCS governance and participate in key strategic conversations.

Additional Benefits:
- Complimentary table top booth at the IGCS Biennial Meeting.
- Committed IGCS staff member to assist with IGCS completing its obligations.
- Subscriptions to the IJGC would be available at a discount based off the publisher’s pricing and World Bank classification.
Join forces with the International Gynecologic Cancer Society and strengthen the positive impact of your organization for both your members and their patients.

By becoming a Strategic Alliance Partner, you strengthen your region and receive the benefits of participating in a truly global community. Together we can enhance the care of women with gynecologic cancer worldwide.

To learn more about how to become a part of the IGCS Strategic Alliance Partnership including pricing and administrative requirements, please contact IGCS CEO, Mary Eiken, RN, MS at mary.eiken@igcs.org.

Uniting the globe in the fight against gynecologic cancer.